“We will get things done, and things will be done right” said the Governor of Nairobi City County, H.E. Johnson Sakaja while addressing the newly appointed board of directors in Mombasa during the closing ceremony of the just concluded BoD induction workshop. The governor further promised to fully support the company in its quest to deliver water and sewerage services to Nairobi City County residents.

Also in attendance for the workshop was Nairobi City County Deputy Governor, H.E. Njoroge Muchiri who urged the board to be fully committed to making big changes in how service delivery is done to enable every county resident have easy access to water and sewerage services. He further spoke of his dream for a future where every Nairobi resident has tapped water in their houses. He emphasized the need for automation of systems to minimize commercial mistakes whilst also ensuring smoothing running of company functions.

The induction workshop was held to equip the BoD with governance knowledge to be able to undertake their duties. The board will be in place for a period of three years.
